prefer to jump the ropes and make his escape.

Finally he was pushed to the center of the ring and did not even know how to put up his hands.

Maher feinted at Morrissey and the latter promptly fell on the floor. Not till Maher stepped away did Morrissey arise and start for his corner. He was again pushed toward the center and Maher swung, but missed. Morrissey flopped to the floor and the referee began to count, interpolating such remarks as "Get up you hound," and "Three more seconds and you're out."

"You can count a hundred and I'll not get up," walled Morrissey. Therefore he was counted out and Maher proclaimed victor.

In the course of time the truth about Morrissey came out. It was learned that he was a waterfront truckman and had been lured into the match on a promise of a rich purse. He was so innocent of knowledge of boxing that a well known featherweight who had been engaged to show him the rudiments of the game, quit in disgust. Morrissey disappeared immediately after the affair and all attempts to locate him failed.

Thanks to the Boxing Commission and its lynx eyed deputies.

Sports Alliance Platform.

Sports Allance Platter of the Walker law and honorary president of the National Sports Alliance, has issued a statement in which he sets forth the aims and objects of the new organization. The gist of his utterances are contained in the following paragraph:

"The interests of the boxers are coupled with those of the public in the resurroses of this organization. Its incoupled with those of the public in the purposes of this organization. Its influence will become national and every promoter, manager and boxer must, perforce, become a member. And no promotor, boxer or manager who once transgresses the standards set by the alliance will have a second opportunity to traduce his profession, for no member of the alliance will be permitted to engage with the offender. The alliance thus becomes the public soilce, and by commanding a clean hence within its own lines insures fair dealing to the public."

commanding a clean berne within its commanding a clean before the public, and it can achieve success by following the procepts advanced by the Senator.

The only question is whether the members of the alliance will follow the wise counse of their moments of oscillations of the contests.

the Highlands to Ocean City; also on the Sound and at Buzzards Bay, Massachusetts; Asbury Park, Deal Beach, Squan Beach, Long Beach and Montaux Point are notable places, and at times good fishing can be had along the Hudson, all the way from Riverside Drive up to Croton, surf fishing and long distance casting being the successful methods. Conditions are not, of course, as favorable now as in former years in the Hudson, commercial fishing having reduced the numbers, and pollution of the waters rendering the North River less attractive to the game fishes.

In casting into the surf the long distance caster has a distinct advantage, by reason of his ability to cast beyond the shallow water, using a fairly stiff rod with large agate guides, a reel large enough to hold six hundred feet of 21 thread line, a tempered O'Shaughnessy hook, with a three ounce sinker, and about two feat above the sinker a leader of triple gut fastened to the line with a double action swivel, the bait being either shredder crab, bloodworms or skimmer clams. Large baits are preferable, three or four worms being threaded on the hook, with some portion of the tails floating free, the hook fully covered.

International League NAVY FACES ARMY IN ANNUAL GAME

Baseball Teams Meet Amid Festivities at Annapolis

To-morrow.

ANNAPOLIS, May 27 .- In spite of the oss of Billy Lush, the coach, within two weeks of the final contest the Naval Academy is looking forward with confidence to the baseball game with the Army, which will be played here on

Since the falling out with Lush the team has been taken in hand by his assistants. Vic Blakesiee, captain of the 1919 nine, and Eddle Milner, who was at the helm in 1920. The incident served at the heim in 1920. The incident served to make every member of the squad feel determined to fight harder than ever. The Navy is weak in pitchers, and relance will have to be placed entirely in Kelly, a slim but wiry and cool headed youth. The only change pitcher is Niemeyer, who will start in right field. The first piece of hard luck came when Fleming, the most promising member of the pitching staff, was taken ill with pneumonia and was lost for the season. A little later Humphreys, captain and first baseman, suffered a sprained ankle. Hederman, the short-stop, has been out of the game a long time on account of a broken nose and two sprains to his ankle, while Hogan, catcher, lost the first month on account of scholastic difficulties.

catcher, lest the first month on account of scholastic difficulties.

The overwhelming advantage of the Army in the service baseball series galls the Navy, in spite of the fact that the Navy has a small marg n in football and basketball. Out of eighteen games played between the nines of the service schools the Navy has won only five.

The game will be a feature of June week, the commencement senson at the Naval Academy, instead of taking place just before it, as has been the rule. In addition to the permanent stands, tem-addition to the permanent stands, tem-perary stands to seat thousands are being erected, and there is every indica-tion of the bigsest crowd which ever witnessed an athletic event at Annapolis.

The Bay Ridge F. C. will meet Brooklyn in the final of the La Sultana Cup to-day at New York Oval. This is for the cham-pionship and for possession of the cup. Kick-off 2 P. M.
